WARNING: Hidden injuries are sneaky, potentially debilitating, and will strike millions of Americans this year . . . and due to ignorance and/or inappropriate care, many car accident victims will suffer for the rest of their lives! That's the bad news. The good news is that there is help available to you that ensures that the insurance companies know what you've been going through and your rights are protected. So keep reading the report to find out the well-hidden truth you won't find anywhere else!

Dear Accident Victim,

Reading this free report may be the most important thing you've done all year. Why? Because finally someone is revealing the shocking truth about car accident injuries many insurance companies don't want you to know. The information in this free report is vital if you want to avoid years of pain, suffering, and misery. So slowly read this report from beginning to end!

Let's get started . . .

Every day, thousands of Americans are involved in auto accidents and they aren't lucky enough to have this information in front of them. As a result, they either receive inappropriate care for their injuries or never get their injury diagnosed properly, and often settle their case too soon.

Don't Talk Or Speak To ANYONE About Your Case Until You Finish Reading This FREE REPORT!

Most insurance adjusters know all about the kind of injuries people like you and me can experience in an accident. They know sometimes you don't feel injured right away and that's why they try to settle as quickly as possible while your medical bills are low or non-existent. They'd rather see you in pain after you settle with you picking up the tab for your own treatment.

This Can Happen Even If It's Your Own Insurance Company You're Dealing With!

Make no mistake, insurance is a business like any other, and the less they spend on appropriate care, the more money they make their shareholders.

Even if you were involved in a minor fender bender, studies have proven you could suffer from a severe injury that isn't easily noticeable.

You can be severely injured and only feel a little or no pain at all after the accident. Your doctor can easily miss this and mistake your pain for something completely different. This is when insurance companies try to settle with you. Don't make this mistake! Until a recognized and reputable doctor who has experience with low impact, soft tissue injuries says you are 100% okay, don't make the decision to settle too soon!

What MOST Doctors Don't Know About Hidden Injuries CAN Financially And Physically Hurt You!

See, after any accident, it's advisable to visit the emergency room to make sure you don't suffer from any life-threatening injuries like broken bones, a punctured lung, or internal bleeding. This is what emergency room doctors specialize in.

But the problem is that as long as there's no immediate threat to your life, the emergency room physician is likely to send you along on your way with pain medication to mask the pain.

And here's the problem with only taking pain medication after your accident...Soft tissues like muscles, ligaments, discs, nerves and blood vessels need oxygen. They also need to function and move properly.

When you only take pain relief and/or anti-inflammatory medication, scar tissue and adhesions can form limiting the proper motion needed for healthy nerve and blood flow.

Scar tissue is also a substandard tissue that can turn into its own source of pain - causing a number of chronic pains, symptoms and syndromes!

The Problem Is That Soft Tissue Injuries Are NOT Always Visible On X-Rays

That's why most doctors don't have the training to detect soft tissue injuries . . . they over-rely on vital signs, x-rays, and the pain described by the patient!

Since many doctors can't detect your injury, they make the wrong diagnosis about what's wrong with you. So any treatments you get based on this diagnosis will do practically nothing for you! Fortunately, I work very closely with many of the family doctors in Morganton, and they often refer patients with auto injuries to me because they know I produce results!!

The treatment of choice of many doctors is to use drugs to cover up your symptoms (in your case, the biggest symptom is pain) so you don't feel injured anymore. This form of treatment only gives you the illusion that you're okay, when really you can be seriously injured and not know it.

So, If You Are Experiencing Any Of These Symptoms, You May Be Suffering From A Hidden Or Soft Tissue Injury...

Muscle Stiffness
Spasms
Neck Pain
Headaches
Numbness And Tingling
Mid-Back Pain
Low Back Pain
Difficulty Sleeping
Irritability
Memory Loss
Fatigue
Difficulty Concentrating

Or worse yet, you may be feeling none of these right now because your injury hasn't started producing these symptoms yet.

The Shocking Truth About Using Pain Relievers, Physical Therapy, And Surgery To Get Rid Of YOUR Pain!

Let's assume you are experiencing some neck pain. How will your doctor attempt to treat you? Well, rather than go after the cause of the problem he or she can't find, he or she's going to attempt to cover up your pain with over-the-counter (OTC) drugs and other, more powerful pain relievers.

These drugs only work by sabotaging your body's ability to register pain. They do absolutely nothing to fix the problem causing the pain. So, while these drugs are sweeping the dirt under the rug, you're giving the illusion you're actually okay. This is dangerous.

Why?

Accident victims on pain medication are more likely to settle their case. The insurance companies use this to their advantage so don't make hasty decisions while on pain relief medication. It may come back to haunt you later.

Usually under pain relief medication, you are more likely to worsen your injury! Your body's way of telling you that you are making things worse is pain and, if you do not feel the pain, you may be aggravating your injury and not even know it! Ever have a sprained ankle? What happens if you keep walking on it rather than sit it out for a few days? It hurts more and more. And why? Because you're making it worse! The same is true for these hidden injuries in your neck and back. Yes, you read that correctly!

That's not to mention the side effects of using these drugs. You see, the bodily functions these drugs are blocking to hide your pain also have other functions in the body. Depending on the drug, you may run into serious kidney, stomach, or liver problems as a result of popping these drugs just to get through a day of work.

The next step doctors will rely on once their initial treatments fail is to refer you to a physical therapist.

The only problem here is the physical therapist is told what to do by your doctor. This means whatever therapy you undergo is designed to treat the problem your doctor thinks you have, when really it may be something totally different.

So, after this charade, it's no coincidence most people with 'hidden' injuries are still in pain and may even feel worse!

At this point, you are either sent back to therapy to try another treatment that odds are won't work because the person directing the treatment, your doctor, never diagnosed your problem correctly. Or, he may recommend you see a surgeon about your problem.

Now, it's true that surgery is an extremely drastic treatment for these sorts of injuries, but if a surgeon doesn't know what to go after, you're probably not going to come out of the operating room fixed.

Oftentimes surgeries, especially in the neck and back, will only result in a short period of pain relief, at best. More than half of all back surgeries will never get you out of complete pain.

Plus, there's the added risk of infection and anesthesia problems, not to mention other side effects that aren't too uncommon when it comes to cutting a body open...like missed time off work and reduced living for weeks or months at a time. Do you really think surgery is even an option you should consider especially since your doctor may not have the whole picture?

Discover RIGHT NOW If You Suffer From A Hidden Injury!

The sooner you find out you have a hidden injury, the sooner you can start a treatment plan to get you out of pain as soon as possible. Wouldn't it be nice to finally have less pain and living your life the same way you did before the accident ever happened?

Well, if you do find out that you do suffer from a hidden injury, then this can be your reality. Imagine having less pain without pills, or repetitive physical therapy, or even the thought of surgery.

Isn't that nice? Wouldn't you rather be healthy once again, rather than living life only one pill away from pain, misery, and frustration? Aren't you tired of going to your doctor again and again, and never getting better? You see, your doctor may not know there are better treatments out there available to you.

If children were in your car, it's vital they are evaluated to ensure their bodies are in good working order and are not subjected to unnecessary pain, suffering, or physical problems later in life. Don't worry; if we do detect an injury, our care is safe for children of all ages.

I hope you've benefited from discovering the truth about Hidden Car Accident Injuries - the same truth many people out there don't want you to know.

Sincerely,

Dr. Charles E. Suber
Chiropractic Physician

P.S. - Don't forget, many doctors are not trained to diagnose and treat hidden car accident injuries. So, if you DO suffer from a hidden injury, almost any treatment your doctor is giving you may be ineffective and may even be harmful to you!

P.P.S. - You need to document your injuries as quickly as possible for two reasons: (1) It will help your legal case if you choose to go that route, and (2) The quicker an injury is diagnosed, the less severe it will be, and the easier it will be to treat. That means you'll be out of pain faster and back to living your life the way it was before the accident.
